OAP'S SCOOTER CRASH DESPAIR

A FRAIL 90-year-old war veteran has been left housebound after his motorised scooter was written off in an accident with a delivery truck.

John Connolly, right, was hit by shrapnel while fighting for his country in the Second World War and is now unable to walk properly.

He relies on the scooter, which he bought from the Motability centre in Harlow, to get out of his home in The Dashes.

But the vehicle was damaged beyond repair when it was struck by a TNT delivery truck and it looked as though Mr Connolly would have to buy a new one when the company refused to accept liability.

"The truck came up to the last point in The Dashes," said Mr Connolly. "I was on the curb and he was driving over to The Hides. I thought I've got time to cross the road."

"I then started to get the scooter on the road but the driver reversed back so he could turn the other way. He was going very, very fast."

Mr Connolly was not hurt in the accident and the lorry driver stopped and exchanged details with him.

But later the company disputed Mr Connolly's version of events and refused to admit any liability, leaving his son Lee fuming.

"My father is 90 and we don't really want to drag him through courts to get anything out of the situation," he said. "All he wants to be able to do is get into town and pick up his newspaper."

Mr Connolly added: "Moving about is very difficult now," he said. "I've tried walking but it's very, very difficult."

A spokesman for TNT Express said that their investigation of the incident had failed to attach any blame to the lorry driver.

However, after being contacted by the Star, the company agreed to make a gesture of goodwill in the form of "a financial contribution to either the repair or replacement of the scooter".

The spokesman added:

"We have now reached an agreement with the family and as far as we are concerned the matter has been amicably concluded."

Football fan falls on tracks during rail station attack

TRANSPORT police are investigating an assault in which a football fan from Harlow fell on to rail tracks after being attacked.

The victim, a 23-year-old man, had been talking to friends on the platform at Tottenham Hale station when he left for a short while to buy drinks.

When he returned he was confronted by a man who asked him if he supported Chelsea. When he said he did he was punched repeatedly in the face. As he tried to run to safety the attacker hurled a beer can which struck him on the back of the head, causing him to fall onto the tracks.

Following the attack the victim was helped on to a train back to Harlow by his friends. He later went to hospital where an x-ray revealed a broken bone.

The attacker is described as a white man, between 35-40, around 5ft 8ins tall, of medium build with short grey or white hair. He was wearing jeans and a navy blue jacket with a Tottenham Hotspur crest on the right hand side.

A British Transport Police spokesman said: "This was a violent attack that appears to have been completely unprovoked. I would urge anyone who has any information that could assist our investigation to contact us."

Anyone with any information is asked to contact BTP on 0800 405040.

Building a Fairer Harlow

Dave White and Harlow Liberal Democrats are working hard to build a fairer Harlow.

As the election moves into the final week, the Liberal Democrats have become the only challengers to the Conservatives nationwide.

"Local people are really responding to our pledges, like raising the income tax allowance to £10,000, and cleaning up the town by ending the Tory stealth taxes," said Harlow Parliamentary Candidate Dave White.

It is clear now that the choice for Harlow residents is more of same with the Conservatives, or fairer Harlow with the Liberal Democrats.

BUILDING A FAIRER BRITAIN

Stabbed teen's mum to join protest rally

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

THE mother of a Harlow teenager fatally stabbed outside an east London pub four years ago will be taking part in a protest march in London on Monday.

Melanie Hopwood, of The Hides, will join the Life Should Mean Life rally in memory of her son Tommy Jones, who was just 16 when he died.

The man who stood trial for his killing was cleared of murder and manslaughter by a jury, despite the fact he admitted stabbing Tommy with a 10-inch kitchen knife following a row outside the pub in Beckton.

"I still can't believe that Tommy's killer walked free from court," Ms Hopwood told the Star this week.

"The fact he got away with killing my beautiful boy shows how much of a sham the British justice system is and now it is in desperate need of reform.

"There should be much tougher sentences for those carrying knives, because at the moment there is no deterrent. Life really should mean life.

"If someone takes the life of another then it is only right and just that they should spend the rest of their life behind bars. It's as simple as that."

ANGRY: Melanie Hopwood with a picture of her son, Tommy, who died after being stabbed outside a London pub in 2006 (photo: HAR0644289)

Organised by pressure group Families Fighting For Justice, Monday's rally is part of a national campaign calling for tougher sentences for violent criminals. Thousands of people are expected to attend and Ms

Hopwood urged anyone who supports the campaign to join them.

"Whether you've been directly affected by violent crime or even if you just agree that the British justice system needs to be reformed, you should join in," she said. "The more people we have, the stronger the message will be."

The march will begin at Victoria Embankment at 2pm and head along the banks of the River Thames before converging on the Houses of Parliament where several group members will make speeches.

Speeders given a safety lesson

DRIVERS speeding through a Harlow rat-run faced some tough questions from a group of 20 schoolchildren on Tuesday.

The Potter Street Primary School pupils used speed guns to catch drivers breaking the 20mph speed limit.

The drivers were then given the choice by police officers of accepting a fine and points on their licences or answering questions from the youngsters. PC Duncan Stableford, from the Chigwell traffic unit, said: "The idea is to make people think about what they're doing rather than just fining them."

Opportunity for business networking

LOCAL firms looking to forge new contacts and reach new customers are being invited to take part in Harlow's first-ever dedicated business exhibition.

The event is the brainchild of Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce vice-chairman Ian Hudson, Dave Smith of website thebestofharlow.com, NatWest Bank business manager Khaled Khan and Mick Granger of The Blue Group. It will take place on June 15 at Harlow Greyhound Stadium.

The Harlow Business Exhibition will give the show's 50 exhibitors the chance to network with other local businesses and show off their products and services to an anticipated audience of 500 attendees.

Mr Khan told the Star the exhibition was a unique opportunity for local firms to meet new suppliers, attract customers and strengthen their business.

"This is something that Harlow's business community has needed for some time now," he said. "The exhibition will be the first of its kind in the town and will give local businesses a unique opportunity to network and build up new contacts."

The event will be free to attend while a stand at the exhibition will cost £250 plus VAT.

For more information on the event or to book a stand, log on to www.harlowbusinessexhibition.co.uk.

In the third of three articles in the run-up to next week's General Election the Star gives Harlow's general election candidates the chance to present their parties' policies on certain key issues. This week: home affairs

BILL RAMMELL
Labour

Since 1997 Labour has doubled spending per pupil and trebled spending on the NHS.

We will not let our schools and hospitals fall into the squalor and disrepair we saw under the Tories, when waiting lists of two years were normal. Under Labour, no-one waits for longer than 18 weeks.

Labour has also committed to providing funding for up to 50,000 new council homes over the next five years, which the Tories oppose.

Labour wants a controlled immigration system where only the people who have the skills the UK needs to build a stronger economy can come here. Under Labour there will be no unskilled migration coming in from outside the EU.

Labour has a strong record on crime, with crime down by over a third since 1997.

It is clear that people also want to change the way politics is done in this country. Under Labour, MPs will be subject to a right of recall if guilty of misconduct and if Parliament itself has failed to act against them. MPs must be beyond reproach and it is vital that the public have absolute faith in their elected representatives.

Finally, I believe Labour chose the right course to support families and businesses in response to the international economic crisis. If we'd let the recession run its course, like the Tories did in the '80s and '90s, many more jobs would have been lost.

It would be a huge mistake to cut support now, as the Tories advocate, while the economy is still recovering. And in Harlow it is a straight choice between Labour and the Conservatives.

ROBERT HALFON
Conservative

I have three ambitions for Harlow: local residents will no longer be anxious about immigration, crime and anti-social behaviour will no more disrupt our town and community organisations will be made stronger so the lives of young people are transformed.

On immigration, Conservatives will introduce fixed annual quotas, form a Border Police to deal with illegal immigration, apply transitional controls for all future EU entrants and speed up the deportation of foreign prisoners. We will replace the EU human rights law with a proper British Bill of Rights. A firm but humane immigration policy will restore people's sense of fair play and stop exploitation of this issue by fringe parties.

On crime and anti-social behaviour, Gordon Brown has let Harlow down. We have the highest crime rate in Essex, the highest alcohol-related crime and increasing numbers of burglaries. Conservatives will put more police on the streets, have tough new grounding orders for troublemakers, clamp down hard on binge drinking and bring back honest sentencing. If you don't want the time, don't do the crime. We will also elect local police commissioners so we can choose the kind of policing we want.

On the community and young people, Conservatives will fund with hundreds of millions of pounds local neighbourhood groups, charities and community organisations. We will create a national community service for young people, ensuring that they have opportunities for real community involvement.

Conservatives will control immigration, cut crime and re-energise our community with real funding and support. Vote Conservative for change on May 6.

DAVID WHITE
Lib Dem

For the great steps forward taken by Britain, we still have a country where people are scared of crime, worried by immigration and unable to find housing for themselves and their children. Labour and the Conservatives posture on penalties which do not deter criminals. What will deter them is increasing the chances of them getting caught and this is why we have committed to recruit 3,000 more police officers.

It's easy for politicians to talk tough and hand out ever longer prison sentences, but this does not tackle reoffending or stop crime happening in the first place.

We would work to change behaviour by replacing short-term sentences with rigorously enforced community sentences and by making offenders confront their own behaviour through restorative justice programmes.

Britain has a proud history of being an open, welcoming country which has gained tremendously by past waves of immigration. Now the time has come to put limits on immigration so that immigrants go where they are needed and not to already overpopulated parts of the country.

We also need to recognise that there are over 900,000 immigrants in this country who need to be brought into our tax system so they can contribute to the country they have made their home.

The single biggest issue facing the people of Harlow is the lack of housing. This is why I, unlike my Conservative opponent, support the Harlow North project as the only way to provide the homes we need so urgently.

JOHN CROFT
UKIP

UKIP's policies on the home front are firm but fair with strong emphasis on law and order and restoring standards across government.

Regarding immigration, UKIP calls for a complete freeze on immigration for five years at least, together with beefed-up border controls and repatriation of failed and bogus asylum seekers.

Following on from this, we believe in strong policies to deter criminals and protect the innocent. This means more prisons and firmer sentences – life must mean life.

Police numbers will be doubled, and we will abolish the Crown Prosecution Service. All foreign criminals and extremists will be deported. UKIP will introduce work permits for limited periods and end support for multi-culturalism whilst promoting one common British culture.

In education, UKIP will re-introduce the 3Rs, give parents choice via vouchers, support new grammar schools and bring back school discipline.

Regarding democracy, UKIP will promote more local democracy, utilise referenda as appropriate, give the public a right to sack corrupt MPs and support a directly elected House of Lords.

Our watchwords remain: radical, firm, but fair, with you the people as masters!

EDDY BUTLER
BNP

The British National Party believes in bringing back the death penalty for drug dealers, child murderers, multiple murderers, murderers of policemen on duty and terrorists where guilt is proven beyond all doubt.

We will aim to cut down on bureaucracy so that the police can devote more time to catching criminals. We will make sure courts impose tougher sentences and make sure prison is a place of punishment.

We will devolve as much power as possible down to the local level. This means we will empower parish and town councils and encourage their establishment where none exist currently.

We oppose the spread of postal voting as this is open to corruption and vote-tampering and undermines the democratic process.

The British National Party will call a complete halt to inward migration of people to Britain and will immediately deport illegal immigrants and criminals from foreign countries. Britain is already overcrowded. There would be no amnesty as this encourages further migration.

Proper border controls would be put in place.

The state, including local government, will only be able to use taxpayers' money to promote indigenous cultures and traditions. All British citizens should be encouraged to value native culture and traditions as this is the best way to promote harmony, community cohesion and integration.

The BNP is opposed to identity cards and the growing power of the state over Britain's free citizens. We would seek to protect the rights of individuals against state interference in their lives.

A sixth candidate is standing for election in the Harlow constituency. Oluyemi Adeeko represents The Christian Party which states its primary purpose as "proclaiming the Lordship of Christ" and promises to fight to re-establish traditional family values and outlaw abortion.

Candidates in final push to win votes

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

WITH just one week to go before polling day, the three main contenders in the race to become Harlow's next MP have been hitting the campaign trail.

Labour candidate Bill Rammell has produced a video to support his re-election bid, reminding voters of what he has achieved for the town during his 13 years as MP.

The film highlights some of what Mr Rammell hails as his key successes, including his fight for a new NHS Walk-in centre, his campaign to keep open the Harlow Advice Centre in the wake of council funding cuts and his role in securing an £11 million government grant to fund the Gateway scheme which incorporates Leisurezone, Barrows Farm Stadium and the housing development in Fifth Avenue.

"Since I was elected in 1997 I have worked seven days a week, 365 days a year for people in Harlow and hopefully this film is evidence of this," he said. "I made it to reach out to different audiences and hopefully it will encourage more young people to get involved and think about the issues in the run up to the election."

"I am passionately committed to Harlow and I am asking for the opportunity to keep working for Harlow."

Conservative Robert Halfon has also been busy, welcoming Tory party chairman Eric Pickles, shadow business minister Mark Prisk and former party leader Iain Duncan Smith to Harlow.

Mr Halfon hailed the backing of 50 of the town's small businesses, who pledged their support to the Conservatives' campaign to stop a planned increase in National Insurance contributions.

Mr Halfon said: "Sadly, Harlow now struggles with the highest unemployment here in 13 years. Gordon Brown's recession has caused misery for thousands and Labour's planned tax on jobs could put recovery at risk."

"But we're an entrepreneurial town with more than 5,500 successful small businesses. These businesses know what they're talking about."

"A Conservative government will work to keep Harlow business money for Harlow people by keeping all rates for major business schemes in the local area. This will help pay for new infrastructure and roads."

Liberal Democrat candidate David White has spent most of the week canvassing, meeting voters face-to-face

Contenders ready to face a Question Time-style grilling

VOTERS will get the chance to question the Labour, Conservative, Liberal Democrat and UKIP candidates at a Question Time-style husting tonight (Thursday).

The debate is co-organised by the Anglican Deanery of Harlow and local church group Heart4Harlow and takes place at St Paul's Church in College Square, starting at 7.30pm.

It will be chaired by Harlow Workplace Chaplain Robert Findlay.

Questions can be submitted in advance by visiting www.heart4harlow.org.uk or can be handed in for consideration before the start.

● Labour and Liberal Democrat candidates Bill Rammell and David White will answer questions at a public meeting on social housing at the Latton Bush Centre, in Southern Way, Harlow, tomorrow (Friday) night. The meeting is being organised by Defend Council Housing and starts at 7.30pm.

on the doorstep.

"The reaction from voters continues to be very positive and we're getting a lot of people who say they will vote for the Liberal Democrats and for real change," he said.

Mr White also said he was looking forward to taking part in the town's first major husting tonight (Thursday). "I'm excited about having the opportunity to engage in some real debate with the other candidates. I think the audience will be very impressed with the strength of the Liberal Democrats' election pledges."

MEMBERS of the National Union of Students, including current and former presidents, were in Harlow on Saturday to support Labour candidate Bill Rammell.

The NUS members joined Mr Rammell and Labour supporters on the campaign trail, knocking on doors in the constituency.

Union president Wes Streeting said: "It was fantastic to come up to Harlow and support Bill. He was a great higher education minister who really worked hard in the interests of students."

"When we were knocking on doors across Harlow and talking to voters in the town centre it was clear that Bill has a real personal following, with many people saying he is an excellent and hard working constituency MP."

Mr Rammell said: "I have always been committed to working to improve conditions for students and widening participation to higher education. Here in Harlow I have worked hard with partners to secure £9m for our first university campus."

"Labour has an excellent education record in this area and I want to see this progress continue."

FORMER Conservative Party leader Iain Duncan Smith outlined Tory plans to increase the number of apprenticeships available to young people during a visit to Harlow College on Tuesday.

Mr Duncan Smith, who is chairman of centre-right think tank The Centre for Social Justice, joined Parliamentary candidate Robert Halfon on a tour of the Velizy Avenue campus where he met young apprentices to find out more about their work and faced a grilling from journalism students.

Mr Duncan Smith said a Tory government would plough extra funding into apprenticeship schemes across the UK.

"Unlike places like Germany and other European countries we don't value the basic skills that underpin our whole manufacturing culture, and unsurprisingly a lot of manufacturing companies have drifted away," he said.

"The Conservative Party at this election wants to set out a very clear policy about getting more people into apprenticeships so we get more apprentices coming to colleges like this, which will be good for colleges and good for business."

Real opportunity for change

SIR, For people tired of the Tweedledum Tweedledee politics of New Labour and the Conservatives there is now a real opportunity to return a Liberal Democrat MP.

No-one can be in any doubt that the Liberal Democrats have become a force to be recognised and the old adage that a Lib Dem vote is a wasted vote simply won't wash any more.

All of us in the party know of countless sympathisers who haven't bothered to vote in the past simply because they felt it would make no difference. Well all that has changed.

Despite his record as an energetic and honourable constituency MP, Bill Rammell will fall victim to his government's unpopularity so this is a two-horse race between David White and Robert Halfon.

Don't be deterred by those who say a Lib Dem vote will let in either of the other two main parties; a Lib Dem vote will increase the chances of returning Mr White to Parliament. Now that would be voting for a real change.

Dr Ray Aldridge-Morris
Old Orchard, Harlow

What's best for Harlow

SIR, Does anyone remember a Britain controlled by the Tories? I certainly do.

Under the Conservatives spending on education was half what it is now, you would wait years for hospital treatment, the NHS was underfunded, unemployment was over three million, interest rates reached 15 per cent, there were tax cuts for the rich and who can forget the poll tax.

Rupert Murdoch wants us to forget how things were under a Tory government. He is brainwashing as many people as he can into believing that things will be better under David Cameron.

For the people of Harlow, though, we need to look at what's best for us. Bill Rammell has worked long and hard to serve the people of this town and he is now a very influential person in the government. He went to school here, he is one of us and not one of an elite band of Etonian toffs who care only about themselves, fox hunting and watching the rich get richer and the poor get poorer.

Take time to look at all that Labour has achieved since 1997. Britain is a much better place now and Harlow has benefited greatly from Labour. Just because Murdoch wants his best mate in the top job so he can make more money doesn't mean it's right for us.

Mark Rowe
Little Cattins, Harlow

I want a fair society

SIR, I am pleased people are showing interest in our town and its facilities (Letters, April 22).

Yes, we had all these things under a Labour council, mainly given to us by the old development corporation. However, they were not kept in good condition and eventually they needed money for infrastructure repairs which they did not get. The swimming pool is an example. The former Labour council spent over £20m of reserves, leaving the present council with the minimum required under law of just over £1.5m as its emergency fund.

I am nearly 65 and I have a bus pass which I will fight tooth and nail to protect, as I said in my original letter. The sad thing is people in Harlow who pay council tax are paying the bulk of the cost which should be funded by the government.

Also, I will not have a big pension; Gordon Brown saw to that. He ruined the pension prospects of private sector workers which had been the envy of the world. The only people who will get good pensions now are public sector employees.

I want a fair society where we look after our elderly and our sick and treat all those who contribute with the fairness we have not seen under Labour.

Councillor David Carter
Greygoose Park, Harlow

Stop bullying pensioners

SIR, In his letter justifying charges to children under 16 and to pensioners for swimming in the new sports centre when it is finished, Councillor David Carter claims that before any money can be spent on community facilities, 19p of every pound collected goes to pay for bus passes.

Is he inferring that the pensioners of Harlow are sponging off the council if the amount that he states is true? I pay £259.28p towards my wife's and my bus pass. If we take the same 19p then I am also paying £259.28p towards Mr Carter's and all other councillors' expenses. So I can now understand why they had to make all the cuts' our council tax pays their expenses.

When I returned to civilian life in 1949 after serving my country, I and others like me were paying a third of our wages in income tax plus national insurance. Today not only do I pay full council tax but because I paid into an occupation pension I also pay income tax.

My understanding is the government pays Harlow Council £800,000 a year towards the bus pass, so how much of this money is spent elsewhere? I also believe the government has given the sports trust a large amount of money towards the cost of the sports centre. That is taxpayers' money, isn't it? I have also been told the council has given the sports trust a large subsidy. That is council tax money, isn't it?

Council poll is being overshadowed by the General Election

SIR, In the midst of the media's concentration on the General Election – mostly waging a propaganda war against Labour or extolling the too-slick performances of Nick Clegg on TV – the fact that local council elections are also being held on May 6 has been somewhat overshadowed.

In the case of Harlow, these local polls are especially significant. This will be the first opportunity that the people of this town have had since 2008, to pass judgement on the Tories since they, for the very first time, took control of Harlow Council – an event which many people came very quickly to regret.

The details of the cost-cutting that Tory councillors introduced are well-known and caused outrage, especially among the most vulnerable and the most in need of advice and support. It was not only the decimation of those essential services that caused such an angry reaction but also the contemptuous "let them eat cake" posture of some Tory councillors, one of whom apparently referred to services such as the Leah Manning Centre as "Labour's sacred cows".

This year Tory councillors triumphantly proclaimed a nil increase in council tax but did not, of course, mention who it was who paid the price for that. And in any case, when the country is in a recession, that is a time to endeavour to retain services essential to those in need, not to penalise them.

When, under Margaret Thatcher, Harlow Council was rate-capped, the Labour council were forced to make certain economies but somehow kept the essential services going.

It is not by their words but by their deeds that we know them and recalling the Thatcher-Major years and witnessing the actions of the Tories in Harlow, I hope that people in this constituency will think seriously before they cast their votes on May 6.

May I say, finally, that I am not suggesting Labour gets everything right – no government, left or right, ever does – but sometimes it is a matter of priorities which are determined, invariably, by the underlying philosophies of the political parties involved.

Ted Mawdsley
address supplied – Editor

So I would like to ask Mr Carter and the other councillors who keep blaming the bus pass and the pensioners on all the costs to public funding to stop bullying us and try to do a proper job for the citizens of Harlow.

Les Coben, Harlow Pensioners Action Association
Wych Elm, Harlow

No need for new treaties

SIR, I am surprised that, in the General Election coverage last week, Robert Halfon, claimed on the subject of the EU that the Conservatives would act to get power back from Brussels. He then offered "a guaranteed referendum on any new EU Treaty" and a UK Sovereignty Bill.

Apart from the fact that he is misleading the voters of Harlow because our Westminster Parliament cannot do this unless we first withdraw from the EU and Conservative policy is to stay within the EU state system, his leader David Cameron already reneged on his promise of a referendum on the Lisbon Treaty.

There is no need for any new EU treaties because the Lisbon Treaty gives all our essential powers away to the EU. The only way to bring back power to our Westminster Parliament is by leaving the political side of the EU. The Conservatives do not have this commitment. UKIP is the only serious political party that does.

Martin Harvey, chairman UKIP Harlow
Middle Street, Nazeing

Give us free swimming

SIR, What is the most important thing in life? Your health. Swimming is the best exercise for old and young and I believe the government gave a grant for this for people over 60 and children up to 16 to help to keep them fit. The museum may be nice but how often do people go to one. I feel strongly that free swimming should be for families, especially those that can't afford to pay for their children and also for pensioners like myself.

J. Robinson
Church Langley, Harlow

Kind and efficient staff

SIR, I would like to say a big 'thank you' to the ambulance personnel and the staff in the minor injuries unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital for their care and efficiency when I had a fall at 6pm last Tuesday.

The ambulance came quickly and, after having had a fractured wrist X-rayed, set and plastered and stitches in my nose, I was able to leave by about 10pm.

Joyce Wheatley,
Brooklane Field, Harlow

Boxed trees a phoney investment

SIR, I would be interested to know how much Harlow Renaissance, their partners and Harlow Council forked out for the 14 immature trees in those amazingly big wooden planters in order to bring a touch of nature to the town centre.

They arrive at a time when the council tells us it will no longer plant replacement trees for all those countless mature specimens they destroy (for subsidence) which has always been the policy in the past.

I also want to know why such a phoney investment in 14 boxed saplings is made at this particular point when West Gate and the Market Square are poised to be sold off to developers, when a touch of nature will become irrelevant and when, incidentally, over 60 beautiful mature London Plane trees will be axed in the Post Office car park and its surroundings in a sacrifice to commercial and retail interests?

We ran in the Marathon

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MARATHON runners from across the Star patch were putting their feet up and taking it easy this week after raising thousands of pounds for worthy causes.

Five Acres resident Steve Hulcoop completed the 26.3-mile course through the streets of London in unorthodox style, combining his run with handstands and some skipping.

It was the 21st time 65-year-old Steve has completed the marathon and on Sunday he finished in a time of 5h 33m. He raised £1,600 for homeless charity Crisis for which he has been a long time volunteer.

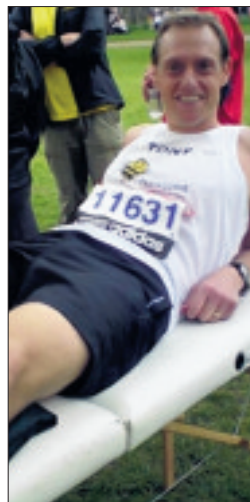

James Sherwin (30), of Barn Mead, Harlow, raised £1,400 for the St Elizabeth Centre in East Herts, which helps people with epilepsy and other conditions. He finished the race in 4h 47m.

A team of runners raised thousands of pounds for St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood. Among them were Tony Hillier, Carl Butler, Lisa and Twiz Saunders, Daryl Matthews, Susan Dewen, Louise Pegrum, Jamie Jephcott, Paul Foster, Keith Allen and Rachel Cathorne.

The youngest member of the team was Rachel, who was taking part in her first marathon and finished in a time of 5h 29m. She experienced the care provided by St Clare at first hand when her uncle was a patient there.

Hospice volunteer Lisa Saunders, who nearly did not take part after suffering a foot injury, finished with husband Twiz in 4h 36m, while Paul Foster is also taking part in the Eaton, Blenheim and London Triathlons and then the Iron Man Challenge.

"I was really disappointed with my time of 3h 58m as I wanted to beat last year's time of 3h 20ms but I got cramp around the 14-mile mark," said Paul.

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "I think it's our biggest ever marathon team. Collectively we're hoping that they will raise over £30,000 for us.

"It's a brilliant event to watch and we are so proud and grateful to all our runners, they have been extraordinarily committed fundraisers and achieved so much.

"We would like to say a very big thank you from all at St Clare to each and every one of them."

Also taking part in her first marathon was Jo-Ann Tinson, dealer principal at Harlow car dealership Motorsales.

She completed the course in a time of 4h 41m and raised £2,600 for The Children's Society, the most money raised by an individual for that particular charity.

Adam Ellis (26), of Kingsmoor Road, Harlow, was taking part in his second marathon and finished the course in a time of 4h 36m. He was running in aid of the deaf/blind charity Sense and expects to have raised more than £1,500.

Julie Hamby of West Road, Sawbridgeworth, is on target to raise £1,500 for the Helen Rollason Cancer Charity after finishing in a time of 5h 27m.

"It was fantastic, absolutely amazing," said Julie, who was running in memory of her mother, Pauline Smith, who died from bowel cancer in 2000 at the age of 53.

Soccer cops tackle refs in pre-season friendly

FOOTBALL-mad bobbies have challenged a team of referees to a rematch to mark the official launch of Harlow Police FC.

The game is one of several pre-season friendlies as the 33-strong squad of police officers prepare to enter the Harlow and District Football League.

The new season begins in September and the team will play each Sunday against local teams in the Harlow and district league.

The squad has already played a few warm-up games together in order to assess the team's ability and strengths.

Team manager Dave Brown, a police community support officer, said: "It's a great opportunity to be involved with the local community in a relaxed environment by playing football and keeping fit."

The police versus referees match takes place on Thursday (May 6) at Bishop's Stortford Football Club, in Dunmow Road. Kick off is 7.30pm and entrance is free.

Roman ruins identified as pottery kiln

EXCAVATION:

Pictured at the site last month are archaeologist Sarah Mounce, Peter Mountstevens of Harlow Council, Chris Lydamore from the Museum of Harlow and site assistant Steven Price

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TEAM of archaeologists have solved the mystery of the Roman ruins uncovered in Harlow last month.

Last month the Star reported that the remains of what was thought to be an ancient building had been discovered by workmen preparing the foundations of a new children's playground at Prentice Place in Potter Street.

Research has now shown that the building, which has been hidden for 1,800 years, was a Roman tile kiln.

Tiles, pottery and bricks discovered on site were investigated by a team from Wessex Archaeology.

The experts said the construction of the building's walls using tegula and brick were typical of a kiln structure.

And analysis of the dark carbon-rich soils which contained 2nd or 3rd century Roman pottery confirmed the archaeologists' suspicions that the building was used for industrial purposes.

The remains will be protected in situ with a carefully laid series of aggregates.

Once they are covered over, work will recommence on the playground which is part of Harlow Renai-ssance's regeneration of Prentice Place. Chief executive Andrew Bramidge said: "This has been a very exciting discovery for the town.

"Whilst small in scale, it does clearly prove that the Romans had a presence in the neighbourhood.

"It also demonstrates that the legacy of pottery production in this area goes back much further than has previously been thought."

Blaze destroys glasshouse

POLICE are appealing for information following a suspected arson attack which caused tens of thousands of pounds worth of damage to an industrial glasshouse in Harlow.

Officers believe the structure in Gilden Way was deliberately set alight at around 9.30pm last Tuesday.

PC Dave Bull, of Harlow police, said: "This nursery is in an isolated area so we're really looking for any passing motorists or dog walkers who may have seen the fire or anyone acting suspiciously.

"It is estimated that the blaze caused around £50,000 worth of damage to the greenhouse."

Anyone with information about the blaze should contact the investigating team at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

Cycle ride will raise cash for PAH baby unit

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CYCLISTS are being urged to saddle up and join a sponsored ride raising money towards a new neo-natal intensive care unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The 10-mile Great Harlow Bike Ride challenge is co-organised by Lisa Wilson (30), who is hoping more than 200 riders will convert pedal power into cash.

Lisa has already recruited 50 staff from the hospital but wants mums and dads who have used the services of the maternity unit to take part in the ride on July 18.

They also need volunteers to act as marshals as well as donations of cash.

"We are looking for anyone who has had their baby at the hospital and wants to give something back, as well as avid cyclists and general community support," said Lisa. "It is heavily supported by the hospital trust with over 50 staff taking part."

Lisa is a senior recruitment adviser for women and child health for the hospital. "I get to see the hard work first hand in this department of the hospital and it will be great to be able to reward them with something," she said.

The event will start and finish at the hospital's social club in Hamstel Road, with refreshments available at The Fox Inn, Matching Tye, and at the halfway point.

Lisa has been cycling three to four miles a week to prepare for the long ride. "I really can't wait to do it," she said.

"I am excited to be taking part and I am hoping that the weather stays nice."

Those taking part will receive a race pack including an official T-shirt once they register for the ride, which starts at 2.30pm.

To register, pledge sponsorship, donate or to get involved as a volunteer marshal, visit the website at www.justgiving.com/neonatalcharitybikeride for more information.

Raising profile of Parkinson's

THE Harlow and District branch of charity Parkinson's UK set up an information table in the Harvey Centre as part of Parkinson's Awareness Week 2010.

Members handed out leaflets to shoppers about Parkinson's, a degenerative neurological condition for which there is currently no cure.

The charity offers information, friendship and support to people with the conditions, as well as their families and carers.

For more information on the branch call 07982 094194 or contact the Parkinson's helpline on 0808 800 0303 or visit www.parkinsons.org.uk.

Rotary raises £200k for kits

ROTARY clubs in Essex and East Herts raised more than £200,000 to provide survival kits for people in disaster-hit countries such as Haiti and Chile.

John Banks, district governor of Rotary in Essex and East Herts, said: "Our members were all out and doing whatever we could to raise funds."

"You cannot fail to be moved by the horrific news reports and stories of loss. We might not be able to go over and help but we can send aid, and ensure it reaches the people who most need it."

"I am very grateful to the people of Essex and East Herts who have given so generously and contributed to this amazing figure."

WOMEN in Harlow have just a few days left to enter Cancer Research UK's Race for Life in the town.

Some 3,500 women have already registered for either the 5k or 10k event at Harlow Town Park next Sunday (May 9).

There are now just 500 places left with the closing date for entries next Thursday at midnight.

Meanwhile, two 23-year-olds from Harlow have been limbering up in preparation for the event.

Sian Cunningham and Sam Patten, pictured above, will be taking on the longer 10k course which has been introduced at a number of races for the first time this year.

Sian, who has taken part twice before, is hoping to double the amount of cash by doubling the distance.

"I love the spirit of sisterhood at Race for Life," she said. "It's not a competitive event."

"I have also invited my friend Sam to take part in the event with me and she is a Race for Life first timer, proving that everyone can do it!"

Any woman who wants to take part can do so by visiting the website at www.raceforlife.org or by calling 0871 641 1111.

Claw blimey, it's a giant box crab

A GIGANTIC crab that scuttled into the net of a Cornish fisherman could be one of the largest ever found in British waters, according to experts.

The rare box crab – who's been nicknamed Spud because of his potato-like body – measures just under a metre long.

The previous record holder was 119cm long, but experts say Spud is missing a claw that will see him smash the record when it grows back.

Box crabs are usually found three kilometres underwater but Spud was caught at a depth of just 110 metres. They are thought to grow up to 2m in length but are rarely found in fishermen's nets because they prefer much deeper waters. It's hoped Spud will soon be well enough to go on display at the Blue Reef Aquarium in Newquay but until then he's being fed up on a delicious diet of rotten starfish!

Aquarium spokesman Matt Slater said Spud

was one of the strangest-looking crabs he'd ever seen.

"It looks like something from another planet and has caused quite a stir among all the staff here," he said.

"It has weird eyes on stalks which look like bicycle handlebars and a strange pair of backward-facing pincers."

HEALTH CHECK Focusing on local health issues in partnership with Princess Alexandra Hospital

Hospital keeps the winter woes at bay

DESPITE having to cope with one of the coldest winters in recent decades, Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital has been able to maintain its levels of service to patients.

All patients referred urgently to the hospital, such as those with suspected cancer, have been consistently seen within two weeks by hospital specialists – one of the best records in the east of England.

And the vast majority of routine operations and treatments were undertaken within 18 weeks of patients' referral to the hospital.

Chris Pocklington, chief executive of the PAH NHS Trust, said: "Our staff have worked tremendously hard to ensure that the thousands and thousands of patients who come to us for emergency and elective surgery have been treated quickly and effectively.

"This has been a very busy winter, yet we retain our proud record of never closing our A&E department to patients.

"This has only been possible because of the efforts of staff and managers to keep beds available and services going during the worst of the weather.

"Some hospitals have also been stricken by the norovirus bug forcing them to close completely to patients and visitors. Although we have had isolated outbreaks of the bug over the past four months, we have been able to control the spread by the vigorous application of our infection control policies which have also seen dramatic falls in other hospital acquired infections such as MRSA and Clostridium difficile.

"Again, this is down to the hard work and vigilance of all staff."

Digestive disorder affecting one-in-six

APRIL is international IBS awareness month. But what is IBS?

It actually stands for irritable bowel syndrome, a condition which affects thousands of people worldwide.

IBS is a long-term condition which affects the digestive system and causes recurring pain or discomfort in the abdomen, a bloated feeling in the tummy and problems in going to the toilet.

It can develop at any age but most people have their first symptoms between the ages of 15 and 40, with women more likely to have severe symptoms. One in six people in the UK have occasional symptoms but because the symptoms are mild and/or occasional, they don't go to see a doctor.

But for some people the symptoms are severe. Apart from pain and discomfort in the abdomen, sufferers may also get:

- excess wind
- feeling sick
- indigestion
- backache
- tiredness
- feeling full
- bladder problems.

The exact cause of IBS is unknown. It may be in people's genetic make-up and thus hereditary, or the individual may have increased sensitivity to gas inside the bowel.

Stress is also seen as a contributory factor in causing the symptoms and fatty foods and drinks such as tea or coffee may make the condition worse.

If you think you have any of the above symptoms and they are getting worse, then you should go and see your GP. You may be asked to provide a sample of your faeces for testing as the IBS may be caused by an infection.

You may be referred to hospital for further tests including a sigmoidoscopy or colonoscopy, where the doctors look inside the bowel and may take a biopsy – a small piece of tissue – for analysis.

There is no cure for IBS but the symptoms can be reduced by medicines and changes to lifestyle and diet. These include:

- eating regular meals
 - drinking fluid but limiting drinks with caffeine such as coffee and alcohol
 - cutting down on fibre foods such as wholemeal bread
 - eating no more than three portions of fruit a day
 - avoiding processed foods.
- Oats – found in cereals and porridge – are proven to reduce bloating symptoms.

For more information and advice contact Core (the Digestive Disorders Foundation) on 020 7486 0341 or visit www.corecharity.org.uk.

Staff in maternity unit are kept busy by baby boom

THE maternity unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital has easily surpassed its own target of delivering 3,800 babies during 2009/10.

From April 1, 2009 to March 31, 2010 the unit delivered 3,980 babies, an increase of 345 births on the numbers for 2008/09.

Meanwhile, the in-demand midwife-led birth centre is celebrating its third birthday this month having delivered 600 babies during its third year – a total of over 1,400 babies having been born in the centre since it opened in April 2007.

March saw the centre deliver 63 babies, a record number for one month.

Wendy Matthews, the hospital's head of midwifery, said: "The baby boom appears to be continuing. We are now consistently delivering over 330 babies a month which was unheard of only 12 months ago.

"We are also very popular with midwives and have been able to recruit nine experienced midwives to join our team.

"This is vitally important if we are to continue to maintain the high standards we have set ourselves and remain popular with women across West Essex, East Hertfordshire and beyond."

Trust up to the mark in new system for regulating quality and safety standards

THE Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust has been licensed by the independent health watchdog the Care Quality Commission to provide services under a new, tougher system for regulating standards in the NHS.

All 378 NHS trusts in England are now registered with the CQC after proving they meet new standards of quality and safety. Among the 16 standards each trust has to maintain are treating patients with respect, involving them in decisions about care, keeping clinical areas clean and ensuring services are safe.

Yvonne Blucher, executive director of nursing for the PAH NHS Trust, said: "We are pleased to have passed this rigorous process to gain our licence without any pre-conditions.

"This new system now in place with the CQC means that we can never be complacent and should always strive to maintain our standards and ensure high quality services for our patients."

SCHOOLGATE NURSERY: Sword-wielding toddlers took on the might of a fiery dragon on Friday as they celebrated St George's Day. The battle-weary tots then topped up their energy with homemade biscuits decorated with the symbolic red and white cross. The nursery, in Carters Mead, had also been draped in flags and creative posters by staff to help the youngsters get into the spirit. Manager Anita Parrish said: "It was enjoyed by all and the children's favourite parts were acting out the myth and decorated the biscuits. "They loved dressing up. It must have made an impact on the children as they came in on Monday still talking about everything that they learnt!"

LITTLE ACORNS: Youngsters at the Purford Green pre-school had two reasons to be cheerful when they celebrated both St George's Day and a good Ofsted report.

For their St George celebrations the children made English flags. Staff and parents then joined them to enjoy drinks and cakes in the outdoor play area.

Manager Lynne White said: "We thought it would be nice for parents to join staff and children for tea and cakes as part of the celebrations and to thank parents for their support after the OFSTED inspection."

The Government schools inspectorate visited the preschool on the first day back after the Christmas holidays. In his report, inspector Robert Greatrex said: "Little Acorns is well managed and the children's welfare is seen as paramount."

HARLOW FIELDS SCHOOL: Sixth-form fashionistas starting up their own T-shirt business have been presented with three new ironing boards courtesy of the Park Inn hotel, in Southern Way, Harlow. Students at the Tendring Road school, which caters for youngsters with severe learning difficulties and disabilities, are currently learning the ins-and-outs of running a small business and have been busy making Olympics T-shirts. Deputy headteacher Sue Burnside said: "This generous gift will be a great help to the group and will enable them to iron the T-shirts they have designed and made themselves before packaging them.

"We are currently trying to engage our sixth formers with the world of business by giving them some invaluable first-hand experience of how small companies work."

"The staff at Park Inn have always been very supportive of the school and the hotel has often taken on students for work placements."

Arson probe after blaze at workshop

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE and firefighters have launched an investigation into the cause of a blaze that ripped through a workshop and destroyed four vehicles.

Fire crews from Harlow, Epping and Sawbridgeworth were sent to tackle the inferno in Reeves Lane, Roydon, shortly before 3pm on Saturday.

The building was completely alight when they arrived and flames had already spread to three cars and a removal van.

Teams of firefighters wearing breathing apparatus used two hose reels and jets and a thermal imaging camera in an operation that lasted until 5pm.

A plume of smoke towered over the scene. Neighbours also reported explosions, thought to be fuel in the vehicles igniting, and flames rose up above the surrounding trees, buildings and greenhouses.

A woman who lives in Epping Road told the Star: "It was massive and quite frightening. It went on for a long time and I thought it might spread." Another added: "I was in Epping and I could see the smoke from there."

A 71-year-old woman suffering from shock was placed in the care of the East of England Ambulance Service suffering from shock.

A spokesman for Essex County Fire and Rescue Service said: "The cause of the fire is unknown at this stage but ECFRS and the police will be carrying out an investigation."

Fake goods seized in market raid by trading standards

MARKET traders caught selling fake designer goods have been warned they will have their stock confiscated and face prosecution.

The warning comes just days after trading standards officers from Essex County Council Trading seized hundreds of counterfeit items from two traders at the popular Saturday market at North Weald Airfield.

The haul included copies of designer label clothing by Ralph Lauren, Franklin & Marshall and Lyle & Scott, as well as hoodies featuring the logo of pop group JLS. The items had a total sale value of £30,000 but the full retail value of genuine items has been estimated at around £120,000.

Both traders were given warnings and told their goods will be destroyed.

Around 200 items of counterfeit jewellery were also seized and two other traders were advised to stop selling certain types of black toy guns which contravene the Violent Crime Reduction Act (Realistic Imitation Firearms) Regulations 2007.

A spokesman for the trading standards unit said it was taking a "zero tolerance" approach to the sale of counterfeit goods and officers would be working undercover at car boot sales and markets every weekend to ensure that Essex is kept fake free.

County councillor Tracey Chapman, cabinet member with responsibility for trading standards said: "Counterfeiting is a serious offence and I would like to remind traders that it simply won't be tolerated in Essex."

"Residents should be aware that although fake items look like the real thing, they are more than likely to be poor imitations and could be dangerous."

PROBATE LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

Administering the estate of someone who has died can be a daunting task, especially if the deceased was a close family member. Our duty, if appointed administrators to an estate, would be to completely remove all the daily stress of corresponding with: Banks - Insurances - Pension Companies - the Inland Revenue and Social Services. We also take over the responsibility for paying the Funeral Directors and house Utility Bills and liaising directly with solicitors and estate agents should there be a house that must be sold.

There is no need for you to complete forms or attend Probate Offices. This leaves you the time to arrange the funeral and contact family and friends.

We have been giving advice and helping clients with Probate matters over the last 20 years and offer you:

*I thought of you with love today,
But that is nothing new.
I thought about you yesterday,
And days before that too.
I think of you in silence,
I often speak your name.
All I have are memories,
And your picture in a frame.
Your memory is my keepsake,
With which I'll never part.
God has you in his keeping,
I have you in my heart.

Join the Midnight Walk trailblazers!

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow have been giving their support to the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk this week by helping to promote the fundraiser and urge more people to sign up.

Last year members of Green Watch were stationed at various points along the 10k course to cheer on the walkers – and they know how important it is to that as many people as possible take part in this year's event on Saturday, June 19.

"It was an amazing experience and inspirational to see hundreds of ladies dressed up with flashing bunny ears and pink T-shirts and helping to raise so much money for St Clare Hospice," said a spokesman for Green watch. "It is such a worthy cause and should be supported by as many people as possible.

"Everyone knows someone who has experienced cancer and so many people have experienced the fantastic work of St Clare, which is why its so important to do what we can to help."

Giles Wright, communications manager for St Clare, said: "The whole Green Watch team are fantastic supporters of the hospice and always willing to have fun supporting us. We're really hoping this publicity may help boost registrations for the event as numbers are down on last year and we really want it to be the biggest event ever as we celebrate our 20th year. Organisers of the Star-backed Midnight Walk are hoping that 2,000 women will take part. "Slowly teams are signing up but we need more, so why not sign up a team today?" said Giles. "It's not an expensive night out and you will have an amazing time.

"Why not get a group of your mate's together and paint the town pink with us? There will be entertainment in the Water Gardens first and, who knows, the firefighters might even make another appearance.

"You will not only have a brilliant night of laughter and entertainment, you will also be raising vital money towards the care your hospice provides 24 hours a day."

The walk, which starts at 10.30pm, will follow the same route as the first year, starting at the Water Gardens and heading for Old Harlow before returning to the town centre. Registration costs £15 and to take part you must be over 14.

Winter garden idea left out in the cold

ANYONE visiting the West Gate area of Harlow town centre recently can't have failed to notice the 14 new tree planters recently installed.

But far from branching out in a new direction, the idea actually takes a leaf out of Harlow masterplanner Sir Frederick Gibberd's design book.

Back in the 1970s, Sir Frederick came up with the idea of an enclosed winter garden for the area. Unfortunately, it failed to take root and did not see the light of day until Harlow Renaissance introduced its copse-in-a-box idea.

Sir Frederick's problem was that the square was too open and lacked any kind of interest, according to Harlow: The Story of a New Town.

Architects prepared several designs for sitting areas, fountains and sculptures but they were considered

"insignificant" in so large an open space to be anything more than decorative, according to the book.

"It seemed that there had to be a long single-storey building or structure of some kind down the centre of the square," wrote Sir Frederick. "I then thought of a long narrow winter garden which, being translucent, would occupy the space without

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

completely blocking the views from one side to the other.

"It could be a place to sit out of the shopping bustle in summer and in winter a refuge from rain and wind."

Plans, now in the archive at the Museum of Harlow, were drawn up and a model of the proposal was made but the idea was eventually shelved when Sir Frederick took it to Harlow Council.

"It was criticised, among other things, for being too narrow for a winter garden, too inflexible, overshadowed by other buildings," he said.

"I cited the winter garden at Coutts Bank in the Strand and although I got agreement that the plants would thrive, it was in vain. The scheme was thrown out by the council on running costs – in my view grossly overloaded."

He added: "The enclosed garden at Coutts Bank has won Civic Trust and other awards. Widely publicised, it has been besieged by visitors."

"The Harlow winter garden could have had the same success. Were it not for the petty and unimaginative minds that resist any unusual enterprise, a dreary environment could have been set alight and pleasure given to a lot of people."

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Carnival

FOLLOWING on from readers' reminiscences of Harlow Carnival, we have been sent two more pictures of the event from 1979 and 1980.

These photos were provided by former Harlow resident Ellen Deering, who now lives in Roydon.

The first, bottom right, shows revellers saying 'aloha' to the camera when the carnival had a Hawaiian theme.

The second, above, was taken at the following year's event and shows one of the floats which was decorated on a monarchy theme.

If you have photos or memories of Harlow in days gone by which you would like to share with our readers, send them to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email them to daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

From the Star 25 years ago

MSD: The truth

Merk Sharp & Dohme opened the doors of its £24m neuroscience research facility to the Star this week to prove that domestic pets were not being used in experiments. The move was in response to allegations that tests were being carried out on cats and dogs.

Tourist attraction?

Harlow is one of a number of places "one would be better off by never visiting", according to a travel magazine. Other places include Luton, Slough and downtown Lagos! A council spokesman said: "Harlow is a great location for a holiday."

Marathon success

Eight runners from Harlow Athletics Club took part in the London Marathon. The team had been in training for some time for the 26-mile race and posted times ranging between 2hrs 25m and just over four hours.

Group fights cuts

Enough is enough. That's the message from the newly formed Harlow Benefits Campaign which aims to fight benefit cuts affecting hundreds of Harlow families. Cuts have alarmed many local groups and welfare workers who have now come together.

>>at the square

>>TONIGHT Another Thursday, another thrilling triple-bill of live music at The Square. Tonight's incoming contenders include hair-metal maniacs Parramon - who won last year's Rock Contest under the guise of Ubaldo Esteban - self-styled dirt rockers Distorted Breed and jaunty pop-punk puffin-fanciers De-Railed. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £4 (free for members).

>>FRIDAY Forget the General Election, the only place where your vote counts tonight is The Square as the venue hosts the first semi-final in its legendary annual Rock Contest. Battling for your hearts, minds and ears this evening will be Cyanide, Stereotypical, KiraKira! and Invisus. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £5 (£4 members).

>>SATURDAY South Coast psychobilly fruitcakes The Eighties Matchbox B-Line Disaster crash-land at The Square tonight ahead of the release of their third album proper, Blood & Fire. Guy McKnight's motley crew of certifiable garage rock loons are renowned for their gloriously unhinged live shows, so expect the unexpected. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £10 (£9 members).

Players' pick from the Bottom drawer

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

IT'S a case of bottoms up for Harlow's longest-running am-dram group as they prepare to stage a peach of a spring production.

Moot House Players are currently locked in rehearsals for two ambitious one-act plays set to open at Moot Hall on May 6, each with a distinctive down to earth appeal.

In a double-header the group has dubbed 'Double Bottom', the first play on the bill is comedy Rock Bottom, written by 1960s playwright and children's author Nina Warner Hooke and directed by MHP regular Dan Powell.

This hilarious insight into the life of an am-dram group sees the Brampton Thespians preparing to take part in a drama festival, in which they plan to present a unique and experimental work.

But as their dressing room antics reveal, am-dram is anything but humdrum as inflated egos clash and several cast members realise they may not have the stomach for the traumas of competition.

Going from the ridiculous to the sublime, next on the Players' bill is Shakespeare's Bottom's Dream.

Directed by MHP stalwart Rosemary Caswell, this lively and original adaptation presents the Rude Mechanicals from the Bard's A Midsummer Night's Dream in starring roles.

It is the actors' one chance to get into the theatrical big time and present themselves before their Duke and his new Duchess. There are lines to be learnt, costumes to be fitted and props to be organised, all under the (fairly) capable hands of Peter Quince, who cajoles the reluctant Francis Flute, restrains the ebullient Nick Bottom and bolsters the confidence of the rest of his reluctant cast.

As soon as the production closes on May 8, the Bottom's Dream crew will then be heading off to Donzdorf in southern Germany to take part in the town's acclaimed drama festival.

The Players are the only British representatives in this very large international event, which also includes companies from Austria, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Turkey and the USA.

Players' chairman Geoff Leeds said: "It's a great little festival and a wonderful chance to see what's going on in European theatre and further afield."

● Double Bottom (Rock Bottom and Bottom's Dream) will be staged at Moot Hall, The Stow, from Thursday, May 6 to Saturday, May 8 at 8pm. Ticketss cost £8 (£6 concessions) and are available from (01279) 639170.

Tuck into a double helping of comedy

PREPARE to have your ribs tickled this Bank Holiday Weekend as a line-up of top comic talent rolls into Harlow.

The fun starts tomorrow (Friday) at The Playhouse with the welcome return of The Comedy Club, before The Square hosts another of its acclaimed comedy showcases on Sunday.

Friday's gig features a triple bill of veteran stand-ups, with MC Kevin Shepherd warming up with a typically manic set before MTV star and improvisational comic Marlon Davies takes to the stage.

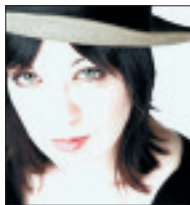

The evening comes to

close with Aussie comic Andrew Roper, a relative newcomer to these shores, who is held in such high esteem Down Under that he still writes daily for Australian radio.

The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £11 from (01279) 431945. Sunday's side-splitting show at The Square will be compered by John Mann, and features Perrier Award nominee Hal Cuttenden, award-winning satirist Danielle Ward and Tiernan Douieb.

Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £5 on the door or from (01279) 305000.

>>MUSIC Top tribute act The ELO Experience recreate the greatest hits of Jeff Lynne's synth-tastic supergroup at The Playhouse tonight (Thursday). Featuring classic songs Mr Blue Sky, Sweet Talking Woman and Wild West Hero, the concert begins at 8pm and tickets cost £15.

>>MUSIC Rock power trio The Hamsters scuttle into The Playhouse on Saturday for a three-in-one concert featuring timeless tracks from guitar hero Jimi Hendrix, bearded bluesmen ZZ Top and, of course, the band's very own back catalogue of rootsy rock, blues and Americana. The gig starts at 8pm and tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

>>ANTIQUES The Playhouse hosts its very own version of BBC1's Antiques Roadshow on Sunday afternoon when expert Eric Knowles takes the wraps off the antiques trade in a fascinating talk packed full of amusing anecdotes - and you can even take along one or two of your family heirlooms before the show to have them valued. The talk starts at 3pm and tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

>>MUSIC Back by popular demand, legendary singer Billy Ocean returns to The Playhouse on Tuesday for another concert jam-packed with hits including the Grammy Award-winning Caribbean Queen, Suddenly and, of course, When The Going Gets Tough (The Tough Get Going). At the time of going to press the concert was a sell out but give the box office a call on (01279) 431945 to see if there have been any returns.

>>DRAMA In Harold Pinter's sublime drama The Caretaker, ageing down-and-out Davies is given shelter by the kindly but vulnerable Aston. He quickly makes himself at home until Aston's brother Mick, a far more astute character, arrives and begins a battle of wits with his sibling as they seek to manipulate the old man to their own ends. The play runs for one night only at The Playhouse on Wednesday at 8pm, and tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

Stylish RCZ is a winning concept

The Peugeot RCZ is a pleasant surprise in all the important areas, with its accurate and weighty steering, good brakes and ride control. It delivers an impressive balance between sporting firmness and urban-speed comfort. IAIN DOOLEY takes it for a test drive.

If there's one thing that's guaranteed to frustrate motoring journalists it's when a car maker wheels out a stunning concept but fails to follow through with a production model.

You see it all the time at motor shows; crowds are wowed and column inches are generated... then nothing.

Peugeot has decided to break with industry tradition, however. The French firm, on a roll with a slew of much improved products, decided to pull the trigger on a show car that stunned the critics. Say hello to the RCZ.

Visually it's unlike anything the company has produced. Keen to rekindle interest after a few lacklustre mainstream models and the perceived abandoning of the GTi sub-brand, Peugeot has played a blinder.

It's rare for any of the fancy styling details of a concept car to reach the production version. The finger is usually pointed at the extra cost or complexity of such things. Peugeot thought the RCZ's double-bubble roof, complex rear screen and

FACTfile
Peugeot RCZ GT HDi 163	PRICE from £24,550 on the road
ENGINE	2.0-litre turbo diesel unit developing 163bhp
TRANSMISSION	6-speed manual transmission driving front wheels
PERFORMANCE	0-62mph 8.2s / top speed 137mph
ECONOMY	53.2mpg
CO₂ EMISSIONS	139g/km

associated metal roof rails were worth saving. The decision was the right one, as those features have rightly become a major talking point.

Regardless of what direction you approach the RCZ, there's only one word to describe it: bold. Granted, head-on it's unmistakably a Peugeot. Visually the car's nose is an evolution of the corporate family face, but its squat stance and compact dimensions have predictably drawn comparisons with Audi's TT.

The two cars are similar in terms of packaging but that's where the similarities end. Price-wise the Peugeot undercuts the Audi by a significant margin. Along with its flowing curves and clever pop-up rear wing, the RCZ is every inch a supermodel and puts the plain Jane TT in the shade. Who'd have thought it? However, looks will only get you so far. Along with rediscovering its style mojo, Peugeot has pulled out all the stops in the driving department.

Once famed for its hot hatches, recent Peugeots have displayed a more mature approach to ride and handling. It's fair to say the policy hasn't pleased the grass roots fans, but with the RCZ Peugeot has made a big step back in the right direction.

A pleasant surprise in all the important areas – ride, comfort, refinement, driveability and performance – the RCZ points to a healthy future for the brand. With its accurate and weighty steering, good brakes and ride control, there's much for the enthusiastic driver to like.

In keeping with the car's low-slung stance, the driving position offers a wealth of adjustment and the ability to sit low and relaxed inside the snug cabin.

Along with the strides made in the handling department, the car's modest engine line-up also deserves a mention. It's only modest in terms of numbers, with Peugeot obviously keen to keep its halo model a bit special. From launch there's a choice between two petrol motors and a diesel. The entry-level car gets a 1.6-litre 156 horsepower turbo petrol motor plus there's a 200 horsepower flagship unit. On the diesel front there's a 163 horsepower, 2.0-litre HDi engine. All come with a six-speed manual gearbox.

What's abundantly clear from a drive in the two high power cars is that the diesel offers a more relaxed experience than the racy petrol unit. Anyone seeking out a compact, affordable mini-GT will love the HDi-powered RCZ. There's no need for a constant flurry of gear changes and you can take full advantage of the engine's ample torque reserves for effortless overtaking or trickling along in city traffic.

Switching to the flagship petrol-powered RCZ reveals a more racy character. If you like working an engine hard, you'll soon warm to the 200 horsepower THP unit's willingness to rev. Combined with the short and snappy manual gearshift, the car's playful nature allows you to push hard on challenging roads with the upmost confidence. It also sounds good, too.

Whichever engine you choose, Peugeot's RCZ won't disappoint. The driving experience is genuinely rewarding and it looks great, two things you need for success in the premium coupe market.

That the car is also good value is no accident. The two trim levels (Sport, GT) include a lengthy list of standard kit, running from alloy wheels, air-con, sports seats and a decent stereo in the Sport to bigger wheels, leather, parking sensors plus auto lights and wipers for the GT variant.

Good value, good looking and good to drive? It might sound too good to be true but with the RCZ Peugeot has managed to pull the rabbit out of the proverbial hat. Unlike the infamous magic trick, the result is down to hard work, dedication and creative bravery.

Motability
The leading car scheme for disabled people

The official fuel consumption figures in mpg (l/100km) for the Mazda Range: Urban 18.0 (15.7) - 55.4 (5.1), Extra Urban 31.0 (9.1) - 80.7 (3.5), Combined 24.6 (11.5) - 68.9 (4.3). CO₂ emissions (g/km) 299 - 107.

The Mazda2 is available with a £NIL advance payment on the Motability Car Scheme for those individuals receiving the higher rate mobility component of the Disability Living Allowance. Subsequent rental payments are made by diversion of this component of the living allowance. Additional charges may be payable, including excess mileage, damage excess and early termination charges. *Motability does not apply to all Mazda vehicles, please ask your specialist dealer for more details. Model shown: Mazda2 1.5 3dr Sport. OTR £12,360. Advance payment prices are correct at time of going to press and subject to change without notice.

Protecting life and the environment

Molecular Products Ltd is a world leading manufacturer in chemical technologies for the treatment of breathable gases. Our innovative products safeguard and protect the environment, and as a result of our continued success we have further job opportunities at our Essex (Thaxted) plant. We are also in the process of relocating to Harlow and successful applicants must be prepared to work at either location.

Primary Plant Operators x 2

5 month temporary contract arrangement
Pay according to experience and qualifications

This is a hands on production role working within our Primary Plant on a shift work basis. This team produces base material in line with the production plan. The successful candidates will be able to accurately read and record machine control and quality data, and make decisions about corrective actions based on that information. It is a manual handling position, and part of the daily routine is to move and wrap bulk bagged product so that it is available for the production line. Full training will be given on our products and production procedures and you will be expected to contribute your experience, enthusiasm and willingness to learn.

Previous experience of working in an effective team to challenging deadlines would be an advantage.

If you're successful and join the Molecular Products community, you can expect 25 days holiday a year in addition to bank holidays; pension, healthcare schemes and participation in our profit related bonus.

To apply, please email your CV with present salary details (making clear which role interests you) to ses@molprod.com or by post to Sue Styles, Organisational Development Manager, Molecular Products Ltd, Mill End, Thaxted CM6 2LT by 14th May 2010. www.molecularproducts.com

Field Sales Representative Based in Hertford

Herts & Essex Newspapers has gained an excellent reputation for delivering quality news coverage and advertising that produces real results for our highly valued customers. We are now looking to recruit a Media Sales Consultant to work as part of a small team selling advertising solutions in paper and online face-to-face to new and existing clients across the region.

The position would best suit someone with previous sales experience, although applications from outgoing, confident individuals who are well organised, professional and keen to develop their sales skills would be welcome. Full and ongoing training will be provided, but you will need to be focused on delivering high standards of customer service and representing our business, with people at all levels.

We pride ourselves on recruiting and developing the best people and pay industry leading salaries, plus target related bonuses. We offer 25 days holiday per year, a company car, on the job support and training and career development programme within one of the country's leading media businesses.

To request an application pack please call Nicole Want, Personnel Administrator, during normal office hours on 01992 526551.

Alternatively, please email
wantn@hertssexnews.co.uk

Previous applicants need not apply.

SEN Caseworker

£16,830 - £19,125

Ref: WE-EC07787

The Statutory Assessment Service has the important job of administering the statutory assessments of children with special educational needs.

We are currently seeking to recruit a friendly and adaptable caseworker to join the team. You will need excellent verbal and written skills and be able to communicate effectively with a range of SENCAN staff as well as parents, schools and other agencies. You must have a commitment to teamwork and supporting others, be able to work under pressure, meeting tight deadlines and have the ability to deal sympathetically with a wide range of people.

You will need to have substantial experience in an administrative role and possess a high standard of typing and IT skills. Experience in using Microsoft packages, particularly Word is essential and Dictaphone typing skills is desirable.

SEN Team Support Assistant

£14,733 - £15,726

Ref: WE-EC07767

37 hours per week

An administration assistant is required to provide high quality comprehensive administrative support to a team and maintain effective links with other groups.

This role will suit an individual keen to increase their experience within a public sector environment. In this challenging and varied role you will be required to provide a high quality and efficient word processing service to the team, prepare correspondence and other documents from notes, dictation and/or other instructions, and collate supporting papers and reports.

You will promote a customer focused image and enjoy working within our team environment and provide support in a variety of tasks;
gathering information, filtering and screening calls, emails and visitors,
making formal appointments and meetings and ensuring co-ordination of diary movements.

This role will require a flexible approach and candidates must be able to prioritise work demands as well as coping with repetitive work, learn and take ownership of new tasks quickly, exercise initiative in order to deal with queries/complaints from the general public, Members, ECC Service Areas and other outside organisations.

For informal enquiries on either post, please contact Lauraine Pryor on 01279 404489.

Apply online at: www.workingforessex.com quoting the appropriate reference number.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 -
SECTION 14(1)(A) AND (7)
THE M11 MOTORWAY (JUNCTION 6 - 7 NORTHBOUND, HARLOW, ESSEX)
(TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2010

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the M11 Motorway in Essex, to provide a safe working environment for the workforce whilst Motorway Incident and Accident Detection (MIDAS) loops are installed in the carriageway.

The works are expected to take place over 4 nights (10pm - 5am) starting on or after Monday 24 May 2010. The Order would come into force on 17 May 2010 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order would be to -

1. impose a 50 miles per hour speed limit on the northbound carriageway of the M11 from a point 400 metres south of the entry slip road at Junction 6 to a point 1000 metres south of the centre point of Epping Road underbridge; and
2. close the northbound carriageway of the M11 from a point 1600 metres north of the entry slip road at Junction 6 for a distance of 550 metres in a northerly direction, allowing for traffic to run on the hard shoulder.

The temporary mandatory speed limit (which would not apply to emergency service vehicles) and closure (which would not apply to emergency service, traffic officer or works vehicles) would be clearly signposted throughout the works.

Essex County Council(B181 Epping Road, Roydon) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2010

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close B181 Epping Road, Roydon, in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with Kingsmead Close, for a distance of approximately 50 metres in both a northwest and southeast direction, a total distance of approximately 100 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 9 May 2010 for 3 consecutive Sundays between the hours of 08:00 and 18:00, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while ASB Contractors lay a BT duct in the carriageway.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The alternative route will be via B181 Epping Road, B1133 Water Lane, A1169 Kathrines Way, A1169 Third Avenue, A1169 Elizabeth Way, Roydon Road, Harlow Road and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 9 May 2010 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 29 April 2010.

Gem of a cup final as Sapphire crush Lindsey

Sapphire Utd 10,
Lindsey St 1
Harlow & District League,
Division One Cup final

STUART Zanone stole the show with five goals as Sapphire United notched 10 to thrash Lindsey Street in the Division One Cup final.

A crowd of almost 200 attended Sunday's final at Bishop's Stortford FC which was marked by 11 goals.

Zanone netted his first on six minutes, finishing from a long through ball.

On 24 minutes, he tapped home for 2-0 after Scott Poole's free-kick was parried by Lindsey Street keeper Collins.

Five minutes later, a counter-attack from a Street corner saw Jack Zanone finish past Collins.

On 40 minutes, Ricardo Remi only had Collins to beat but passed across for Stuart Zanone to complete his hat-trick, putting Sapphire 4-0

SAPPHIRE & STEEL: The Sapphire players with the cup ahead. (s)

There was still time before the break for two more goals.

A Remi shot deflected off a Lindsey defender and into the net before the same player's delicate chip from the corner went into the net.

Remi teed up Stuart Zanone to drive home from 18 yards on 58 minutes, putting Sapphire 7-0 up.

Five minutes later, a long Jack Zanone throw was flicked into the net by Stuart Zanone for his fifth.

On 67 minutes, Street netted a consolation goal when Kim Shaw raced through the Sapphire defence and prodded home past keeper Matt Ponter.

Remi completed a brace when he fired home an 80th-minute penalty after Andrew Newman was fouled and four minutes later Poole rounded off the scoring with a shot.

Sapphire player-boss Alwyn Charles said: "We played extremely well. We had a great start and just continued. We did not showboat and we showed them respect. My team created a lot of chances and Stuart Zanone exploited them well."

SAPPHIRE: Ponter, J. Zanone, Wilkinson, Fussell, Eke, Poole, Jones (Newman 62), Charles, Dobson (Rayner 70), S. Zanone (Charles 75), Remi.

LINDSEY ST: Collins, White (Furlong), Attrill, Wilkins, Syme, Fitch, N. Flegg (Cook 45), Perry, W. Flegg, Zielinski (Marshall 45), Shaw. Subs not used: Waterman.

Double vision for Heath Rovers

A LATE winner from two-goal hero Max Francis-Johnson gave Heath Rovers their second cup of the season, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Extra-time loomed when a through ball from Luke Plane on 87 minutes found Francis-Johnson and he tucked the ball into the corner of the net.

Rovers, who had won the Premier Division Cup final the week before, dominated the early stages of Saturday's final at Bishop's Stortford Football Club.

Rovers went ahead on 26 minutes. A right-wing cross

Heath Rovers 2, Potter Street 1
Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League, Bill Bruty Cup final

from Flynn Cumming was volleyed home by Francis-Johnson.

On 40 minutes, Street's Kerry Walton made it 1-1 when his free-kick went in off the gloves of diving keeper Matt Ponter. Potter Street regretted a series of missed chances when Rovers scored the winner from their best second half chance.

Street boss Neil Hewitt said: "We had the better chances and I felt a foul should have been given before they scored their second goal but that is football."

POTTER STREET: Dalby, Huddell, Wickham, O'Connor, Knight, Moss, Devonshire, Devine (Dearon 87), Wookley, Walton, Druce.

● ALBURY completed the double when they won 6-3 at second-placed Dunmow Rhodes in the Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League division two title decider with two matches to spare.

Albury had earlier won the division two cup and Saturday's result meant they could not be caught by any team below them.

Heath Rovers reserves overcame Hertfordshire Rangers 4-1 at home.

In division one, Hatfield Heath reserves drew 2-2 at home to Avondale Rangers.

Other results: Prem div North Weald 1, Sheering 0.

Div one - Alemithe Ath res 6 (James Thomas 5, James Mayes), Thorley Park 1.

Div two - Thaxted Rangers res 0, Frontiers 3 (Ryan Brown 2, Adam Webb).

Tues April 27 - Prem div - Alemithe Ath 3, Heath Rovers 3.

Div one - Hatfield Heath res 0, Alemithe Ath res 4, Sheering res v Avondale Rangers p/p. Div two - Hertfordshire Rangers 3, Albury 1, Thaxted Rangers res 1, Heath Rovers res 3.

Fundraising pays off for club

GRANTS of more than £32,000 plus some excellent fundraising from members has enabled Harlow Town Cricket Club to pitch in with new practice facilities.

With the recent spell of good weather the new practice nets at the Ash Tree Fields club in Elizabeth Way have been put to immediate use with club training sessions starting early to take full advantage.

Club secretary Paul Morrell explained: "The old facilities were in desperate need of replacement last season but with costs of approximately £40,000 for new practice nets it has taken considerable time and effort to successfully gain the required funding and planning approval in order to proceed."

The club was successfully awarded grants for £29,251 from the ECB and £3,000 from The Lord's Taverners (a charitable organisation that raises million of pounds for cricket).

But it was the hard work of members who staged fundraising activities to find the remaining £6,600 needed to fund the project.

Morrell said: "The new

NEW LOOK: The revamped practice nets at Harlow Town Cricket Club (s)

practice nets look amazing and are a huge boost to the cricket facilities available at the club.

"I look forward to seeing them in action over the coming season and hope that they will bring real benefits to our members for many years to come."

Training takes place every Wednesday (6-8pm) for under 15s and U-16s, seniors and veteran members and Thursdays (6-8pm) for the U-10, U-11s and U-13 age groups.

High hopes for Falconer

HIGH jumper Billy Falconer has been fast-tracked as a future British Olympian after being handpicked to join the Lloyds TSB Local Heroes initiative.

The 17-year-old Harlow College pupil will receive a cash injection of £1,000 to help with the cost of training and competing after being selected as one of only 270 youngsters from across the UK.

Falconer attended the London launch of the initiative at the Brit Oval last week, where he received masterclasses with former British Olympians Jonathan Edwards, Leon Taylor and double Paralympic champion Ellie Simmonds on sports psychology and media training.

And after finishing second while on England duty at the SIAB Schools International meeting last July, Falconer has set his sights on more international honours in 2010.

He said: "I got my first England vest at the Schools International last year and I would really like to try and get a GB one at the Youth Olympic Games in Singapore this year.

"It's only my first year as a junior so I know it is going to be hard because the qualifying heights are quite high.

HIGH HOPES: Billy Falconer (s)

"It's just a test season for me this year really because hopefully when I am a bit older next year I can jump much higher in the junior age group.

"The requirement for the World Junior Championships is 2.15m and my PB is 1.96m so I think that will be a bit too far."

Now in its third year, the Lloyds TSB Local Heroes initiative - which is run in partnership with SportsAid and has now supported 589 young British Olympic and Paralympic prospects - is designed to ensure more talent reaches the top and to ease the financial burden on parents.

And triple jump world record holder Edwards, who won Olympic silver at the Atlanta Games in 1996, believes Falconer's inclusion in the scheme will play a major role in him fulfilling his potential in the sport.

Edwards said: "There are many top national and international performers like Billy out there who aren't old enough or who haven't quite done enough to receive Lottery funding.

"They've all got the potential to make it to the top and the Lloyds TSB scheme will help to lighten the financial burden on them and their families.

"When I was 18 I was helped out by SportsAid myself and not only did it help me financially but it was also a great feeling to have someone else believe in me."

● Lloyds TSB Local Heroes is an initiative in partnership with SportsAid providing support and funding to more than 270 of Britain's most talented developing athletes on their journey to London 2012 and beyond. To find out more about Lloyds TSB Local Heroes visit www.lloydstsb.com/localheroes

Calvino ton can't halt cup exit

A MAIDEN first team century from Nino Calvino could not prevent Harlow from losing at fellow division two club Buckhurst Hill in the first round of the Essex League Cup on Saturday.

Calvino struck 101 a day before his 18th birthday, but this was not enough for Harlow who were always up against it after Buckhurst Hill battered first and scored a massive 288-2 from 45 overs.

Harlow skipper Jason McNally had won the toss and put the hosts in to bat.

Opener Gordon Whorlow batted through the innings to make 93 not out.

Fellow opener Rohan Bhome made a rapid 60 before Ian Russell chipped in with 43 as the hosts reached the 200 mark with 10 overs left.

Buckhurst Hill 288-2, Harlow 223-6

Harlow lost by 65 runs

Essex League Cup, first round

Buckhurst Hill debutant and former Sussex all-rounder Carlos Remy came in for the closing stages and he dispatched the Harlow bowling to all parts of the ground as he smashed 62 not out in just 28 balls.

McNally (1-58) and new recruit from Old Brentwoods' Ahmed Khawaja (1-25) were Harlow's wicket takers.

Harlow, who are without batsman Waqas Akhtar who has not returned to Harlow from a trip to Pakistan last year, got off to a good start in their reply.

Opening batsmen Lee

Jessey and Calvino punished the loose ball effectively.

Jessey made 29 before he was bowled by Josh Peters.

Khawaja came in and batted well but after he fell for 39 and McNally went shortly after for 4, Harlow's run chase tailed away.

Calvino fell near the end for 101 and Harlow finished 66 short of the winning target.

Harlow seamer Luke Heskett said: "They batted very well and Carlos Remy's innings was the effective difference between the two sides.

"We were in contention until Ahmed [Khawaja] and Jason [McNally] fell in quick succession. We then lost wickets at crucial times.

"Nino batted very well. He took the singles and twos well and put the bad ball away."

Athletes shine in league opener

TWELVE Harlow Athletic Club youngsters produced fine individual performances in the first National Young Athletes League match of the season at Ware's Wodson Park.

Rosie Poole (11), from Water Lane School, who is the reigning Harlow Primary Schools cross country champion, ran brilliantly in the U-13 girls 800m, shattering her personal best (PB) in running 2 mins 48 secs for second.

Marlene Avontuur (13) had an excellent day with three 2nds in the U-15 girls events. These were in the 300m (47.8s), 800m (2:37) and discus (22.94m).

Isobel Moss (Passmores School) ran a PB in winning the U-15 girls B string 800m in 2:41.5.

Passmores School-mate Eloise Lott (12) was 3rd in the U-13 A 100m (15.3s), 5th in the A 200m (33.0s) and 5th in the A long jump (3.52m).

Also in the U-13 girls, Marie Agyare was 2nd in the B 100m (15.2s), 5th in the 70m hurdles (15.6s) and 2nd in the A discus (14.78m).

Passmores' Eleanor Moss (12) was 6th in the A shot (4.96m), 3rd in the B discus (12.49m) and 4th in the A javelin (14.49m) in the U-15 girls.

In the U-17 girls, Sian Donovan was 3rd in the A 100m (14.3s).

Jack Read ran an excellent 26.3s for 2nd in the A string U-15 boys 200m.

In the same age group Harry Johnson (Passmores) was 3rd in the javelin (19.80m) and 5th in the discus (16.01m). Joe Bailey (U-13 boys) won the shot put (5.48m) and was 3rd in the 800m (2:57.3).

Tom Baines was 3rd in the U-15 high jump (1.40m) and Nathan Shipp (Stewards) was 3rd in the U-17 400m (60.4s) and 3rd in the long jump (4.54m).

Six teams competed. Harlow finished 6th with 139 points.

Bothwell in HTFC bid

FORMER Hawks chairman and chief executive Jeff Bothwell claims he has taken legal action to regain his majority shareholding in the football club.

Bothwell claims conditions he laid down over the transfer of his shares have not been met following Platinum Sports Management's takeover of the Barrows Farm club in February.

He wants to get his 56 per cent shareholding back. He agreed to allow the company, run by Hawks new co-owner Tommy Cunningham, to take 46 per cent of the shares for free to help save the club, who at the time were thought to be £190,000 in debt.

Bothwell has lodged a case with the High Court, he claimed.

Platinum spokesman Cunningham said: "I'm not aware of what he's doing. If we receive anything formally from Mr Bothwell or his representatives then we will deal with it."

GB praise for Pitman

FAITH Pitman was praised by Great Britain head coach Patrick Roux after her performance in the U-63kg category at the European Judo Championships.

The 24-year-old, from Hookfield in Harlow, finished seventh after losing her repechage fight against German player Claudia Ahrens.

This was after Pitman beat Hilde Drexler (Austria) in the first round before losing to Edwige Gwend (Italy) in the quarter-final of the main event at Vienna in Austria.

Roux said: "She has grown in these Championships and put in a good performance. She showed skill in her first two fights."

Greyhound selections

BAGGIES Boy in the final race is our tip for this Friday (April 30) at Harlow Greyhound Stadium.

Selections: 7.30pm Toosey Jess; 7.45pm Lulus Miracle; 8pm Will Power; 8.15pm Mount Hill Girl; 8.30pm Comeback Girl; 8.45pm Vigorous Freddie; 9pm Seomra Tango; 9.15pm Buglys Touch Bar; 9.30pm No Joke Robbie; 9.45pm Tam The Bam; 10pm Dods Blue Eyes; 10.15pm Baggies Boy (NAP).

Golfer eyes U.S. academy

A YOUNG golfer from Harlow is set to take on some of the world's best junior players at a major tournament in Scotland this summer.

More than 500 players from 30 countries will compete at the 2010 United States Kids Golf European Championships from June 1-3 – Europe's premier tournament to showcase the next generation of golfing superstars.

The event will see some of the best young golfers from across the globe battling it out for the title of U.S. Kids Golf European Champion as well as coveted places in the U.S. Kids Golf World Championships at Pinehurst Golf Club, North Carolina, later this year.

Harlow 15-year-old Tom Kisby is competing in his third European Championship. He came 22nd in his age group in 2009.

Super Tennant shatters vet record

Running

JOHN Tennant shattered a nigh on 20-year-old veteran 60 record for Harlow Running Club at the Virgin London Marathon.

Tennant clocked a superb time of 3 hours, 16 minutes and 5 seconds to improve the club vet 60 record set 19 years ago by more than 20 minutes.

He joined 14 club-mates at the 26.2-mile trek through the capital on Sunday.

The race was run under damp and muggy conditions to begin with but then turned warm and sunny later on.

First Harlow finisher was Jared Bethell, running in his first marathon and continuing his recent run of outstanding performances. He clocked a fantastic time of 2:52.42 for 575th place out of more than 36,500 finishers.

Three Harlow runners achieved personal best times for the distance.

Jamie Jephcott finished in 3:23.30, Gavin Brett – in his second marathon in three weeks – clocked 3:25.24 and John Bull improved his PB by 25 minutes to 3:27.51.

Making their London Marathon debuts were:

Joanne Chung 4:35.54; Wendy Spring 4:37.11; Derek Seymour 4:50.20; Susan Dewen 4:57.19; Susie Morley 5:17.15; and Harriet Radmore 5:19.41. Other Harlow RC results were: Steve Mackenzie 3:31.20;

Jamie Luck 3:46.38; Sean Flynn 3:50.37; Emma Wadding 4:27.30.

● AT the Shakespeare Marathon, Harlow's Ann Somerville completed her first marathon and clocked a creditable 4:31.15.

Young Rams on the up!

Youth rugby

PROMOTION was clinched by Harlow Rugby Club's U-14 team when they played superbly to defeat Westcliff-on-Sea 31-19 at home in their final Essex League game of the season.

Harlow went ahead in the first five minutes of Sunday's match when Scott Whitby scored an unconverted try.

The lead was stretched to 19-0 as Mitchell Sinfield scored a try, converted by Whitby, before Jordan Shipp touched down a third try which he converted.

The Rams led 19-12 at half-time.

The second half saw Harlow score

two more tries through Whitby and Shipp. Whiby kicked one conversion.

HARLOW U-14 (squad): Judge, Hoy, B. Clark, Freeman, Hatcher-Staines, Burns, Sinfield, Davis, Whitby, Jones, R. Clark, Shipp, Adams, Bleach, H o l d e n, H u m p h r e y s, C o u b r o u g h, C u n n i n g h a m.

Harlow U-15's won the shield title at the Colchester Rugby Festival on Sunday when they beat Chelmsford 6-5 in the final.

Harlow went 3-0 ahead through a penalty before Chelmsford scored an unconverted try.

However, a second-half penalty by Matt Norris gave Harlow a 6-5 lead which they held onto. Earlier, Harlow drew twice and lost twice in a tough pool stage.

In their first pool game, Sonny Handscomb put Harlow 5-0 ahead with an unconverted try but opponents Brentwood won 10-5.

Harlow went down 5-0 to Colchester in their second match.

M a s o n Newborough scored a try and Matt Norris kicked a conversion as the Rams drew 7-7 with London

Scottish and the final pool game saw Harlow draw 0-0 with Wymondham.

Harlow progressed to the last four of the shield and defeated Woodbridge 8-7 to move into the final.

Newbrough (try) and Norris (penalty) scored Harlow's points.

The shield triumph came after a successful season which saw them win division two of the Essex U-15 league.

Servo Link up win in KO darts final

Cricket

THE first week of the KO season for the Harlow & District Premier Darts League saw Servo Link beat Moot House in the best of a three-leg 1001 final.

Earlier, Servo beat league champions White Admiral 2-0 in the first round after a 180 from Roy Leftwich (Servo).

Other first round results saw Moot

Servo clinched the fours league by four points from Young Pretenders.

Damian Green won the 180s table, notching an amazing 10 maximums during the league season with his dad Ron, Graham Lowe and Alex Hogg next all on 5.

There were 99 180s scored in total.

Highest outshot 170 by Dicky Foster (Servo Link).

Ferrari parks a point

Shaun Gliddon beat a couple of home defenders before tucking the ball past Dawson.

However, Ilford bounced back with a goal a minute later. The ball fell loose to Troy Hewitt and he hit it first time from 50 yards which caught Harlow keeper James Hasell off his line and went in.

Ilford went ahead against the run of play on 65 minutes. Derek Hawtin fed Sam Sunday from the left and he slipped a Hawks defender before firing home.

Dawson made a string of fine saves to deny Harlow before the visitors made it 2-2 through Ferrari.

Ferrari parks a final point

SUBSTITUTE Lorenz Ferrari scored a late equaliser to clinch Kevin Warren's first point as Harlow Town caretaker manager.

Hawks were trailing 2-1 to hosts Ilford on Saturday when Ferrari fired in after a goalmouth scramble following a corner on 89 minutes.

Saturday's game was academic, with Harlow already relegated.

The basement club had only pride to play for.

Ilford's regular keeper Rob Budd was away and stand-in keeper George Dawson came in for him.

Dawson made an excellent early save to deny Harlow a certain goal before the visitors went ahead on 29 minutes.

Who's the boss?

HOPEFUL: Kevin Warren hopes to be appointed as Hawks boss for next season by club co-owner Tommy Cunningham, inset

(HSP0642334)

Hawks to appoint new manager in a fortnight

TOMMY Cunningham hopes to be in a position to appoint a new Hawks manager in a fortnight's time.

The troubled Barrows Farm club has just suffered two consecutive relegations and co-owner Cunningham is keen to get this appointment right.

In the season that has just finished, rookie bosses Anthony Anstead and ex-

By DAVID RIMMER

Hawks player Marvin Samuel have come and gone.

Team affairs since February have been handled by Cunningham and assistant Kevin Warren, with the latter taking over full control for the last few games.

Cunningham said a board meeting would be held next Tuesday (May 4) at which the requirements for the new boss would be discussed.

He would not say who has come forward from other clubs but revealed that Warren was keen to take the job.

Cunningham said: "It's the position I want to get sorted out. There are two or three people who are interested."

"One comes from a Ryman premier club and another is from a Ryman division one north club. Kevin Warren has said he would be interested."

Cunningham and colleagues will speak to all three applicants. Former Hawks boss Ryan Kirby, now assistant manager at Ryman premier division Boreham Wood, has been linked with a return.

Cunningham was heartened by Harlow's display in their last league game (see match report left) and the spirit of the fans.

"When we did go behind we did not feel sorry for ourselves. We created a lot of one-on-ones and Lee Protheroe hit the post," said Cunningham. "There was nothing in the fixture but we kept going. The supporters and volunteers are the future of the club. They give me hope."

RETURN: Luke Bowen could be back this weekend

ace Luke Bowen is set to make a speedy return for Rye House Rockets following his horror crash last week.

The Harlow rider suffered a shoulder injury in the Premier Trophy match against King's Lynn after he was catapulted into the safety fence when trying to avoid fallen rider Tomas Topinka.

He carried on despite the pain and went on to win three of his five races, but missed Friday's match at Somerset Rebels which the Hoddesdon-based speedway team won 48-42.

After seeing a specialist on Monday,

Speedway

Bowen was told that nothing had been broken - but he had sustained slight tendon and nerve damage.

Doctors advised him to rest, but Bowen is ready to ride. "Luke says the shoulder feels sore, but he's determined to take his place in the side for Monday's Premier League fixture against Berwick. He's a tough sort and I've pencilled him in for the match," said promoter Len Silver.

The action on Monday starts at 2pm and is followed by a National League match between the Kart Raceway Cobras and King's Lynn.
